

Personal: Daron is happily married with two young children. When not working or coaching, Daron can be found chauffeuring his kids around town or somewhere in the woods.

Playing: Daron played club, ODP, and high school soccer. He was starting ODP goalkeeper 1987-1992 and selected first team all-state goalkeeper twice in high school. His college career lasted less than one year while attending Stanford University. He was fortunate to have two former Portland Timbers goalkeepers and a former Yugoslavian national team goalkeeper among his coaches when Daron was in his teens.

Professional: Daron has coached goalkeepers since moving to Bend in 2002 for previous Bend club teams, but mostly at the high school level. Several of his goalkeepers continued to play in college, a few at the Division I level.
