

Personal: Sean is a native Texan coming from the Dallas/Fort Worth area. He moved to the Central Oregon area in 2012, and began his chiropractic practice in Bend. Also, Sean is a part-time anatomy and physiology instructor at Central Oregon Community College. When he's not working he enjoys all the outdoor activities in Central Oregon, and crafting his skills as a beer brewing nerd. Sean has been married to his wife Melissa since 2013, and they have an adorable black lab named Guinness.

Playing: Sean started soccer when he was in first grade, and played through high school. During college Sean shifted his focus towards a career in music, but continued to play soccer in many men's and coed leagues around Dallas/Fort Worth, and still gets out on the pitch from time to time.

Professional: Sean started coaching soccer in 2013 with the Bend FC Timbers in the Junior Academy. He has continued to coach in the Junior Academy, has assisted with the Bend Boys RTC program, and has assisted with the Redmond High School Boys team. You may also see Sean at BFCT Broken Top 3v3 Tournament and Bend Premier Cup providing chiropractic services to all the participants.

Quote: Coaching has been an extremely rewarding experience for me, and it has helped me as an individual grow in all aspects of my life. The biggest lesson I have learned from my fellow coaches and our kids in the Junior Academy is to not be afraid to fail. I use to be afraid to fail when I was younger, and it definitely made things harder and less fun. What I have learned now is that if we can embrace failure, then we can learn from it, grow from it, be successful because of it, and make the learning process fun. Thanks, BFCT Junior Academy!
